Block votes for Antioch

Landfill finished expansion out

by GLORIA DAVIS

It looks like David has not only felled Goliath, but he just may be down for the count.

On Wednesday, May 9, Lake County Circuit Court Judge William Block handed down a decision concerning landfill expansion that, being used as a legal precedent, could affect future moves by disposal companies, not only in Illinois but nationwide.

According to Donna Henderson, Antioch attorney working on the Village of Antioch versus Waste Management's expansion try, on April 23, Block upheld the village's injunction stopping the vertical expansion of the Antioch Landfill by Waste Management.

When this happened, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA), which had already issued a permit for the vertical expansion, refused to go along with this decision. The IEPA, calling the decision a mute one, announced that it would file a limited stipulation of its own even though Waste Management did not object to Block's decision.

On May 9, Block denied the IEPA's motion to dismiss the village's motion for a summary judgement, declaring the point not mute but a public issue.

Basically this decision means that any landfill expansion intentions in the state will now have to go to public hearing before any permits are issued.

In essence, the IEPA has lost power and now all disposal companies must deal with the public in like situations instead of just the IEPA.

Before June 1983 the IEPA had issued at least 90 such permits in Illinois, and between that date and this month, 90 more permits rolled off of the IEPA's assemblyline.

It may now be possible for the municipalities, where these permits were issued, to fight those permits using Antioch's case as a legal precedent.

"This has virtually opened the door for other action by municipalities against the IEPA," said Henderson.

There is a possibility the IEPA will appeal Block's decision.

In still another final victory, Henderson reported that the office of Ken Clark, Village of Antioch attorney, has received a letter informing the village that the appellate court has upheld the decisions made by the Lake County Board and the Pollution Control Board, to deny Waste Management's request for horizontal expansion of the landfill site.

"This really nails them down in Antioch," Henderson said. "It means no landfill expansion at all in this village."

It will be a family affair when Dr. and Mrs. Albert Bucar are honored at an inaugural reception in Hawaii in June.

"We're taking everybody this time," said Bucar, as he explained that his five children and Pat Wagner, the paraoptometric that has been with him for 19 years, will all go to Oahu when he is officially installed as the president of the American Optometric Assn.

The annual congress of the optometric association is slated to be held in Honolulu, Ha., from June 13 to 26. The inaugural reception will be held in the Honolulu Suite of the Hawaiian Hilton, on June 20.

1985 will be a busy year for Bucar that will include a lot of traveling, national and international.

Fingerprint repeat

The Antioch Jaycees will repeat Operation Fingerprint, designed to help identify lost or missing children, on June 9, at the State Bank of Antioch.

Camp choice

Chris Patterson, 10, afflicted by Down's Syndrome, has been chosen by the Antioch Jaycees to go to Camp New Hope this summer.

The funds to make this possible were raised at Santa's Pancake Breakfast.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Have you noticed Mayor Ray Toft's new look. He tells me he has a bet with his daughter Kathy Soder (who's expecting in the not too distant future) on losing a pound for every one she gains.

According to our erstwhile mayor, he's ahead so far!

Congrats to Pat Sikorski who took a third place at the Lake County Antique Auto Show with his gorgeous 1923 Model T Roaster. The show was held at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake.

Ed Frazier, who takes care of the circulating of those instructions on "What To Do In Case of a Tornado," is right on the ball now that tornado season has arrived.

It's good info just in case, and Frazier deserves a great big "thanks" for all his efforts.

With all the furor about the new parking meters and the stronger enforcement of parking violations, the Antioch police are still not too busy to help the needy.

For instance, Officer Mike Volling did his good deed for the day when he rescued a senile Antioch News editor in need by opening the door of her car after she locked her keys inside.

John R. Woolner, son of retired Air Force Tech. Sgt. John R. Woolner and Patricia Woolner, just received a 3.5-year U. S. Air Force ROTC scholarship that covers full tuition, textbooks, laboratory fees and pays a monthly subsistence allowance.

Woolner, a 1983 graduate of Antioch Community High School, presently a student at Parks College, Cahokia, Ill., upon graduation will be commissioned an Air Force second lieutenant.

The Russell Ladies Aid will have a luncheon on Tuesday, May 22, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., at the Russell Community Church on Russell Rd., between Rte. 31 and I-94.

In case it wasn't clear in the News' article on the upcoming Northern Illinois Conservation-885 Club sponsored fishing derby, starting on Memorial Day, two of the entry requirements are the anyone over 16 must have a legal fishing licence.

Those 16 and under are welcome to join the competition for $50,000 in prizes.

Are you ready!! Old Com-Ed tells us that they are getting ready for the annual seasonal hike in electricity costs "due to increased usage."

Hey, what happened to the old, "buy by the volume and you get it cheaper?"

Henry Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, and Nicholas Zeien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zeien, were both honored at Monmouth College's annual honors convocation.

"You'd really have to work here at one of Commonwealth Edison's nuclear plants to know that.

"Because you'd see the kind of care we take. The lengths we go to to make sure it's built right.

"It could take me days to explain it all.

"Like taking an entire night just to get one X-ray of a big weld finished.

"Just one. That's how thorough it is. And tedious.

"But you have to do it, because you're hunting for flaws that could be smaller than a pinhead or as innocent as a shadow.

"So we don't cut corners. We run test after test after test.

"Mag-particle. Liquid penetrant. Hydrostatic. Even an ultrasonic test that can actually hear something wrong.

"We wouldn't settle for anything less.

"Because when you're dealing with the safety systems in a nuclear plant, every critical weld is important. They have to be checked. By independent teams of inspectors. And they have to check out right.

"We go beyond industry standards. Beyond what's required. Everything's got to be right. No maybes about it.

"Believe me. That's never going to change."

Historical society ready to accept acquisitions

The "Old School" will be opened for a work day on Saturday, May 19. The restoration and acquisitions Committees of the Lakes Region Historical Society will both be present.

The acquisitions committee has declared the date an "in-gathering" day. They are hoping that everyone who has been saving and storing articles for the museum will bring them to the school at that time.

Carol Whitton, chairman, has put the various members of the committee in charge of different categories to facilitate collection. Articles will be tagged with the name of the donor and the date of acquisition. Formal forms will be sent at a later time.

The restoration committee needs workers who can continue the work on re-finishing wood work, repairing broken windows, and replacing missing boards.

The restoration committee will begin work at 9 a.m. The acquisitions committee plans to be present from 8:30 until 11 a.m.

An interesting program has been planned for the regular meeting on May 24. Pat Smith of the Wauconda Township Historical Society will present a program on "Re-cycling, Early American Style."

She will explain how our forefathers "made do" with the scanty materials they had available.

Meetings are held on the fourth Thursday of every month at the Brook Community Room of the State Bank of Antioch. They begin at 7:30 p.m.

GERODONTOLOGY

Q. What is gerodontology?

A. You probably know the term "geriatrics" — health care of the aging. Gerodontology is the dental science within that health specialty. Scientists are constantly learning more about the dental problems of the aging and their cures. This growth of knowledge and advance in techniques is essential, for today there are more older people in our population than ever before, and their number increases daily.

Most dentists treat many older patients in their regular dental practice, so they make a point of staying up-to-the-minute on the newest and best treatments for this age group.

When I think about it I never did like bald men wearing one earring

by GLORIA DAVIS

Never before in history have people had access to so many products that claim to be number one in a particular field. I tell you, it's down-right confusing, not to mention costly enough to rival the national debt.

They say that "cleanliness is next to Godliness," so the modern American household must be close to canonization.

With all the available cleaning products being purchased in the grocery store, the cost of the various sprays, powders and bottles, often adds up to more than that of the week's groceries.

By Thursday, with my household budget exhausted, and the food pantry wanting, I often find myself faced with a choice between a hot bowl of Pinesol or a deep-fried SOS pad for dinner.

Oh well, the only thing that rivals the American preference for money, beauty and the antiseptic, is being emaciated. Since only things that taste good are fattening, I assume that I won't gain weight on that pre-pay day lunch that consists of a sandwich made up of two stale pieces of low-cal bread enveloping a bar of Dove. (A little mayonnaise helps this one!)

I've been told that my grandmother made her own soap and the same bar washed floors, walls, bodies, hair, clothes and anything else that needed cleansing.

Today's homemaker needs an entire room just to house home-cleaning products, each geared towards a particular purifying problem.

It has never been quite clear to me why the same household dirt and grease needs different cleansing agents that are dependent on the polluted surface.

What really bugs me about all this is the decisions! Why, oh why, are there 20 different products for washing walls, 30 for floors, and 130 shampoos, not to mention a brand of bar soap for each and every part of the body!

To compound the problem, according to the product spokespeople, every one gives the best result.

Now there are several different solutions to the problem of choosing among the myriad of cleaning products available.

One can read all the labels, compare volume size to price per ounce or pound, or whatever, and choose the best buy.

Buying the products pushed by the most believable, or most amusing, tv commercials may open another avenue of elimination.

I have one friend who buys products that have color coordinated packaging and another whose choice depends on whether or not a product's jingle is written in her key.

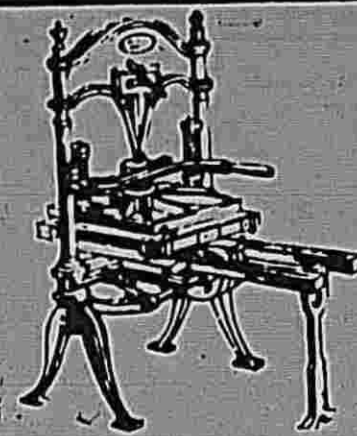

This has proved to be one of the thriftiest plans since my friend literally sings in the piano keyboard's cracks.

Personally, I feel life is just too short and involved to spend even an extra second striving for whiter and softer clothes, or countertops that sparkle more than my neighbor's.

I just grab the first can, box or bottle within reach, and hope I have time enough to read the label before using it. My hair lost some of its shine the time I used a concentrated grease-removing detergent instead of shampoo.

And believe me, aerosol shaving cream doesn't do the trick when mistaken for a room deodorizer.

Now that I've eliminated all that "soap-perfluously" spent time, it can be spent more productively in deciding among the 101 breakfast cereals that jam shelves on the other side of the market.

Grass Lake slates Lotus study

A meeting of the Grass Lake School Board, on May 8, was attended by many residents, some vocally for the Consolidation recommended the study.

Grass Lake Supt. Richard Hogan told the people in attendance that any questions on the proposed consolidation of the two schools should be turned into the Grass Lake School office in

Antioch tied with Warren for first place in NSC

After winning a weekend doubleheader against Libertyville, the Sequoia varsity baseball team is tied with Warren for first place in the North Suburban Conference.

Antioch's record stands at 13-3 conference and 15-7 overall, as they get ready to face Lake Forrest on Tuesday, May 15, at Lake Forrest, and finish out the regular season against Mundelein, at Mundelein, on Thursday, May 17.

The Sequoias bowed to Salem Central, 2-1, on Monday, May 7, in a non-conference game.

John Ruggles was on the mound for Antioch, giving up two runs. Antioch got its run in the first inning when Craig Rather went to first on a walk, stole second, and was brought home by a base hit by John Mahar.

Salem scored in the first also, and their winning run was made on a pass ball.

Antioch took North Chicago, 12-1, in five innings, on a windy, cold Tuesday, May 8. John Humphreys is credited with the win, tossing four strikeouts, one walk, and allowing three hits.

Heavy batters for Antioch were Prather, with a homerun and three RBI's; Humphreys with a solo homer in the fifth; Frank Mahar with a triple in the second and three RBI's, and Bob Walden with a single and a triple, giving him one RBI.

Antioch beat Libertyville twice in a doubleheader on Saturday, May 12. Humphreys had the 5-2 win, putting him 7-2 in conference and 8-2 overall.

Ruggles, Andy Lehn, Walden, Joel Bissing and Brian Parkhurst were the heavy hitters for Antioch in this one.

Antioch sewed the game up in the sixth when Lehn walked to first, Walden got on base, and Parkhurst hit a sacrifice bunt. Bissing then had a base hit that brought Lehn and Walden home.

Antioch took the second game, 10-3, with Frank Mahar going all the way on the mound. He threw six strikeouts, gave up two hits and five walks.

Antioch scored in the first when Humphreys drove in Bissing. In the second inning, a single by Tony Gebauer brought in Lehn, and Prather brought in Walden and Gebauer.

The Sequoias got five more unearned runs in the fourth inning.

The Antioch High School Junior Varsity softball girls made it seven wins in a row, with a 18-9 non-conference win over Round Lake High School.

The Sequoias were led by Maria Maravelas, Debbie Sigler and Denise Maple, with each girl getting three or more hits.

Tina Taft was the R.B.I. leader for the day with six runs to her credit. The young Sequoias continue to improve both in the field and also with stronger batting.

PM&L Full of 'Ginger' starting Friday, May 25

Neil Simon's "The Gingerbread Lady" is PM&L's fifth show this season, and opens May 25. Following the opening show a complimentary champagne party will be given by PM&L and everyone is invited to stay and join in the celebration.

Larry Bersie, Ralph Ferguson and John Boerman, all residents of Antioch, pitted their carpentry skills in creating the set, a slightly dog-eared New York City brownstone apartment.

Tom Hausman, also from Antioch and appearing in this production, has, in decorating the set, drawn upon his considerable experience gained while teaching drama at Wilmot High School, and has created just the right atmosphere.

Stage managers, Elmarie Beno of Wildwood, Mickey Mandel of Fox Lake and Irene Hahn of Antioch, have all worked diligently to assist Director, Barb Miller of McHenry, in putting the show at its professional best.

Technical Director, Glen Stevens of Johnsbury is being assisted in lights and sound by Carol and Jim Goschy of Trevor, to add the finishing touches.

"Only When I laugh" was the movie version of "The Gingerbread Lady." The show is another total success for talented playwright Neil Simon and in keeping with the true Simon tradition deals with life's serious problems through hilarious and sometimes biting comedy. This adult show will be enjoyed by all mature audiences.

The show begins at 8:30 p.m., on Friday and Saturday nights, on May 25, 26, June 1, 2, 8 and 9, with a 2:30 p.m. Sunday matinee on June 3.

Reservations can be made at (312) 395-3055. Dinner-theatre packages can be obtained at both Struggles Restaurant (312) 395-9400 and The Village Pub (312) 395-3373 in Antioch.

IN 'GINGERBREAD' — PM&L's new production "The Gingerbread Lady" will open on May 25. Shown in rehearsal are, left, Anne Marie Cina, as she reunites with her daughter, played by Debbie Beno.

ANTIOCH LICENSE PLATE — New village license plate is displayed on Laddie Korecek's car.

Antioch plate available

The new seven letter Illinois license plates have literally hit Antioch. The proud owner of the AN-TIOCH plate is Laddie Korecek and his Buick Riviera.

Korecek commented that the plate was obtained through Antioch Auto License Service which is owned by the Charles Cermak American Family Insurance Agency in Antioch.

Cermak said that the new seven letter license plates became available Jan. 1.

The personalized plate program has already generated in excess of $3.6 million since 1980 when the six letter plate became available. In fact the personalized plate program is so popular, the state of Illinois will begin issuing the plates to pick-up trucks (B plate) on July 1.

There is no fee for applying to the state for the plate of your choice. Once the individual is notified that the plate applied for has never been issued to someone else, the plate is then assigned to the applicant.

The one time fee for obtaining your own personalized plate is $75, payable to the state of Illinois.

The fee for a motorcycle is $40. In addition to the one time fee the state will assess an additional $10 to the annual renewal fee.

If anyone is interested or has any questions regarding the personalized plate program simply come in to the Antioch License Service. A question and answer brochure published by the state is available at this location.
